Activities Among Memphis Negroes BY REV. T. O. FULLER.

Everyone who witnessed the floral parade Tuesday had his pride as a citizen of Memphis intensified. It was a thing of beauty.

Where the press leads, the people follow, and it is very important that its position on vital issues should not be in doubt.

Community life is a big game of co-operation which every man should play. Each individual should develop himself to the highest point of efficiency and then make himself as serviceable as possible. Everyone who tries to live without work lives at the expense of some other man and thereby becomes an element of danger to society.

I have two well-trained young men, who are industrious and thoroughly re-liable. They would be fine for offices or to take with you on your summer trip.

The Baptist Ministers' alliance held an interesting meeting Tuesday. Rev E. M. Seymore made a helpful ad-dress.
